

Dear Parent/Guardian or Friend,

Welcome to Special Olympics! Thank you for taking the time to enroll someone you care about in Special Olympics.

The Special Olympics mission is to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for individuals, ages 8 and over, with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy, and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills, and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

Attached is all the information and forms you will need to register your athlete. It is a very easy process. Simply complete the enclosed Application for Athlete Participation and then arrange for your family doctor or frequently seen physician to review and complete your athlete's medical history. A doctor's signature, physician's assistant or nurse practitioner signature is required by the professional conducting the examination. Then mail the completed form to the address of the local program where you wish to participate. A list of programs and their addresses can be found on our website at www.specialolympicspa.org.

Upon receipt of the application, a representative from the local program will contact you to discuss what sports are available and provide you with training dates, times and locations so you can visit the training site to meet the coach and begin training.

We look forward to having your athlete join our Special Olympics team. If you have any questions or need any assistance with the registration process, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Denise Dellaratta

Let me win. But, if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt.

Mission -- Special Olympics Pennsylvania provides year-round athletic training and competition in 22 Olympic-type sports for individuals with intellectual disabilities and provides them with continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness skills, express courage, and participate in the sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

STATEMENT OF ELIGIBILITY

IV.A.3.

Persons eligible for Special Olympics provided they are:

PERSONS AGE EIGHT AND ABOVE WHO ARE CONSIDERED TO HAVE INTELLECTUAL DISABILITIES AS PERSONS WHO HAVE CLOSELY RELATED DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES SUCH AS THOSE WHO HAVE FUNCTIONAL LIMITATIONS, BOTH IN GENERAL LEARNING AND IN ADAPTIVE SKILLS SUCH AS RECREATION, WORK, INDEPENDENT LIVING, SELF-DIRECTION, OR SELF-CARE. NOTE: PEOPLE WITH FUNCTIONAL LIMITATIONS BASED SOLELY ON A PHYSICAL, BEHAVIORAL, EMOTIONAL, SPECIFIC LEARNING DISABILITY, OR SENSORY DISABILITY ARE NOT ELIGIBLE.	DETERMINED BY THEIR LOCALITIES.

* Any person eight (8) years of age or older who is identified as having an intellectual disability by an agency or a professional in any given local area is considered eligible for Special Olympics. Other terms that may be used synonymously with intellectual disabilities include: cognitive disabilities, mental handicaps, or mental retardation.

Age Requirements: There is no maximum age limitation for participation in Special Olympics. The minimum age requirement for participation in Special Olympics competition is 8 years of age. Any SOPA Program may permit children who are at least 6 years old to participate in age-appropriate Special Olympics training programs offered by that Accredited Program, or in specific (and age-appropriate) cultural or social activities offered during the course of a Special Olympics event. However, no child may participate in a Special Olympics competition (or be awarded medals or ribbons associated with competition) before his or her 8th birthday.

 When the term “intellectual disabilities” or other similar descriptors is not used to identify the person in a local area, eligibility should be determined by whether or not the person has functional limitations in both general learning and adaptive skills. “Developmental disability” is the term most often used to describe persons with both limitations. Other terms that may be used synonymously with developmental disability are “developmental handicap,” “developmentally delayed,” or “severe disabilities.”

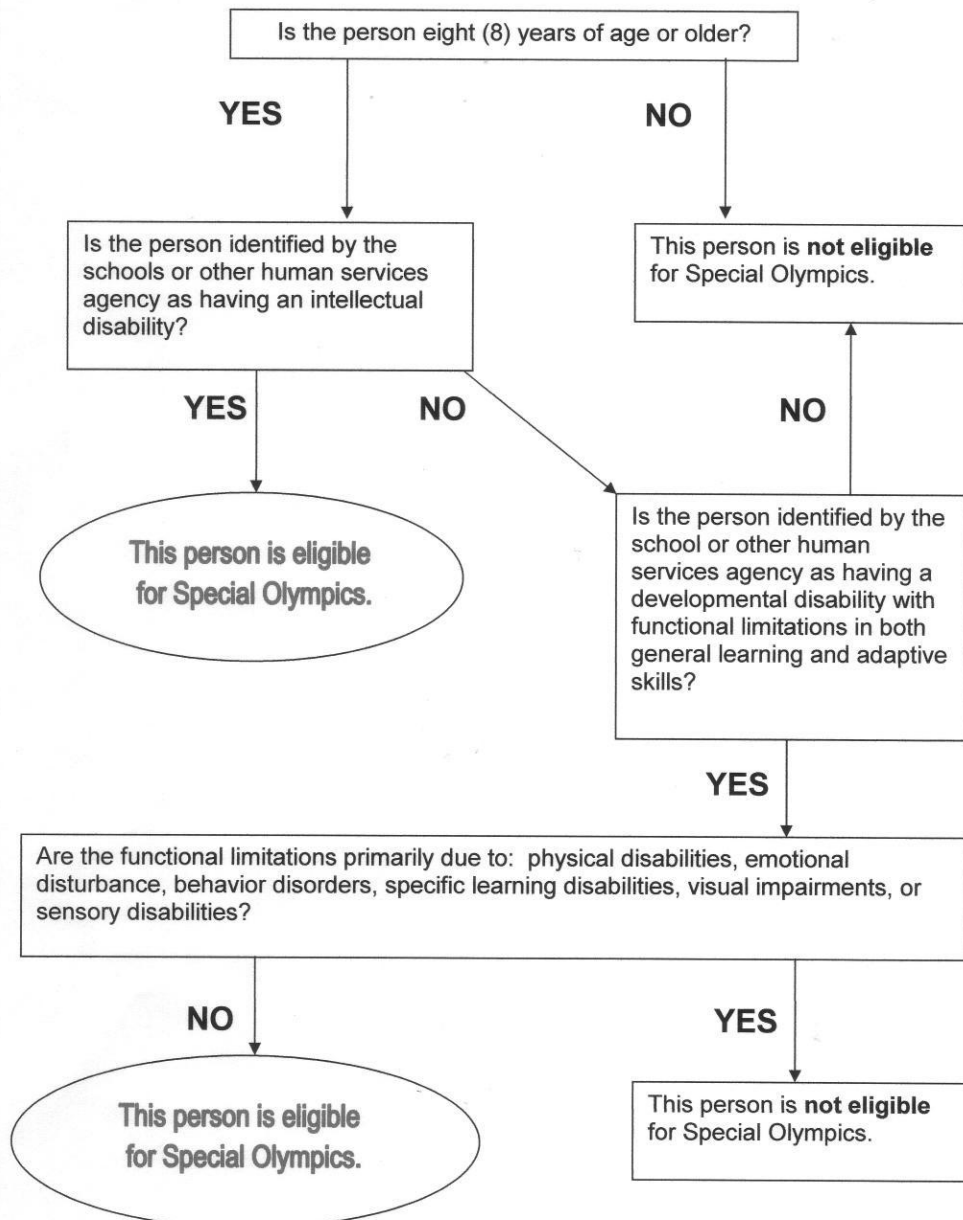

General Learning Limitations refers to substantial deficits in conceptual, practical, and social intelligence that will result in performance problems in academic learning and/or general life functioning. Learning limitations may be assessed by standardized tests (e.g., intelligence or achievement tests) or through criterion-referenced measures (e.g., teacher/parent observations or actual performance samples).

Adaptive Skill Limitations refers to on-going performance deficits in skill areas considered essential to successful life functioning. These adaptive skill areas include: communication, self-care, home-living, social skills, community use, self-direction, health and safety, functional academics, recreation/leisure, and work. Adaptive skills limitations may be measured by standardized tests (e.g., adaptive behavior scales and checklists) or through criterion-referenced measures (e.g., teacher/parent observations or actual performance samples).

If the person is identified as having a developmental disability with functional limitations in both general learning and adaptive skills, an agency or a professional must still determine whether or not the functional limitations are solely due to an intellectual disability or a closely related developmental disability. If the functional limitations are solely due to: physical disabilities, emotional disturbance, behavioral disorders, specific learning disabilities, visual impairment, or sensory disabilities, this person is not eligible for Special Olympics.
